REPORT

Name of the Course: MILE: Creative Writing

Course Duration: Feb-March

Number of Credits: 2

Department: English

Collaborating College and Department: Borough of Manhattan Community College, NY

Florence Homolka from the English Department at Borough of Manhattan Community College, NY and Ms Komal Tujare, Department of English, St Mira's College for Girls collaborated on the course MILE: Creative Writing. In order to advance students' knowledge and understanding of different genres of creative writing and in an attempt to enable students to develop the skills required to give creative expression to their personal thoughts, emotions and ideas, a collaborative course was designed for the students across borders. The course also aimed to assist students in engaging with different forms of writing such as the haiku, sonnet, drama and short fiction and gain comparative knowledge of various cultures and literary genres and styles through intercultural exchange

The course consisted of a pre-course interaction in the form of an ice-breaker on Padlet where students shared their interests and communicated with each other informally. The students of St Mira's and BMCC then met for synchronous sessions on 9th February, 9th March and 23rd March, 2023. The synchronous sessions were jointly led by the coordinating faculty and opened discussions and creative writing sessions covering a range of genres. The first session covered love sonnets and students collaborated in break-out rooms to create their own love rhymes. The second session was devoted to a modern rewriting of Medea's feminist rant. The third session involved plot oriented creative writing of traditional archetypes and myths. All the synchronous sessions also included break-out room sessions in which students worked in groups on assigned tasks, including creative writing sessions which were shared on Padlet and discussed at the end of the session. The students of St. Mira's also worked on assignments of creative writing which ranged from haiku and sonnets to full length short fiction pieces. Apart from transnational literacy, students learnt to collaborate with people from so many different cultures and age groups in an extremely rewarding way.
