SAINT MIRA

Our Patron Saint

The name "Mira" is synonymous with nobility, wisdom, Indian culture, courage, purity, service, sacrifice, and pure love. Saint Mira stood for true freedom for women, born from the love of God and service to the poor. She rose above the restraints of society, transforming from a rebel into a saint, asserting her dignity and ultimately surrendering her will to the Divine. These qualities were the very ideals that Sadhu Vaswani wished young women to embody, and therefore he named his experiment in education after this saint of Indian history.

REV. SADHU VASWANI

Founder of the Mira Movement in Education

Sadhu Vaswani was a philosopher-saint, distinguished professor, and visionary educator who believed deeply in woman-power and woman-spirit, long before feminism was widely recognised. He founded the Mira School in Sind in 1932, which was envisioned to grow into a university, but the Partition of the sub-continent forced relocation to India. Maharashtra provided fertile ground for the Mira Movement in Education, leading to the establishment of Mira schools and St. Mira's College in 1962, one of the pioneering colleges exclusively for girls in the region.

REV. DADA J. P. VASWANI

Spiritual Guide & Visionary Leader

Dada J. P. Vaswani was a globally respected spiritual leader, educationist and humanitarian who carried forward the legacy of the Mira Movement in Education. A powerful advocate of peace, compassion and ethical living, he inspired generations of students to combine intellectual growth with spiritual depth. Under his guidance, the institutions of the Sadhu Vaswani Mission expanded their educational outreach while remaining rooted in values of service, discipline and character formation. His emphasis on women's empowerment, inner strength and universal brotherhood continues to shape the ethos of St. Mira's College.

THE SADHU VASWANI MISSION

Our Parent Institution

The Sadhu Vaswani Mission is an international humanitarian and educational organisation founded on the principles of compassion, service and spiritual awakening. With initiatives spanning education, healthcare, rural development and community welfare, the Mission promotes a value-based approach to nation-building. Through the Mira Movement in Education, the Mission established institutions dedicated to nurturing academically strong, socially responsible and ethically grounded young women. The spirit of service, simplicity and global citizenship fostered by the Mission remains central to the culture and identity of St. Mira's College.

The National Service Scheme (NSS) at St. Mira's College provides a platform for student-led community engagement under the Ministry of Youth Affairs & Sports, Government of India. Each year, over 100 volunteers participate in initiatives such as environmental drives, health awareness campaigns, blood donation camps, self-defence workshops, rural outreach programmes and national observances like Azadi Ka Amrit Mahotsav, promoting social responsibility and civic awareness.

The College collaborates with multiple NGOs and social organisations, including Spherule Foundation, Poona Blind School, Deepgriha Society, Mother Teresa Home and Hope for Children Foundation, ensuring sustained community partnerships rather than one-time engagements. Through these initiatives, students collectively contribute hundreds of service hours annually, gaining practical exposure to grassroots realities.

Guided by the motto "Not Me, But You," the NSS programme nurtures empathy, leadership, teamwork and a deep sense of social accountability.
